

The notion of combine the operating privileges of Amateurs Extra and Advanced, and Novice and Tech make a lot of sense. Also makes sense to give No-Code Techs some privileges below 30mhz. I am NOT in favor of eliminating code requirement for General and Amateurs Extra. I always thought it kind of stupid that a licensed amateur could not practice code on the air before passing a test.

Morese Code is the oldest and purest forms of radio communications and it is up to Amateur Radio to maintain and preserve this historic art form.
